(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BERRYVILLE, VA., August 12.—The third annual exhibition of the Clarke County Horse and Colt Show Association opened to-day under the most favorable auspices. The day was an ideal one, a rain on yesterday having put the track in fine condition and rendered the air cool and bracins. The entries numbered over 200 more than at any previous show of the association. The attendance was larger than was expected, and the management correspondingly enthusiastic.

The scene at the ringside was an exhilarating one, the beauty and chivairy of this and other States seemingly centering there. The grand-stand, a handsome structure, just completed, was crowded with the best people in the State, who cheered loudly their favorites as they event before them. Some of the box-holders were P. H. CASE OF POLICEMAN POND

Over One Hundred and Fifty Witnesses Heard and Whole Day Used Up.

Over One Hundred and Fifty Witnesses

Heard and Whole Day Used Up.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHESTERFIELD, VA., August 12.—

The County Court yesterday was occupied almost exclusively in hearing testimony in the case of Policeman Walter E. Pond, of Ettricks, against whom charges have been preferred by a number of the residents of Ettricks and Matoaca and the neighboring country. Mr. Pond being an appointee of this court, petitions signed by something like a hundred and fifty persons, some of whom were women, were laid before Judge Clopton last spring, asking for the removal of Mr. Pond, and Mr. M. E. Bridges, an extra policeman, who has no regular salary from this county, from office and the appointment of other officers in their place. Since the filing of the petition M. E. Bridges has resigned his office, and the evidence to-day, therefore, was wholly as to Mr. Pond. Soon after the filing of the petition for the removal of Mr. Pond a counter petition was filed by several prominent citizens, asking that Mr. Pond be retained in office.

The matter having stirred up so much feeling on each side the court allowed the parties interested a special day in which to state their respective sides, allowing broad laituide as to the summoning of witnesses. Full fifty witnesses were therefore here to textify—more than have been in any one case for years, except the famous case of H. J. Rubin vs. the Richmond and Petersburg Electric Rallway Company last spring.

The evidence did not substantiate the charges made, though witness after witness was put on the stand for the prosecution. It was found that most of the objection given in was from parties who had at one time or another been offenders against the law. One of the charges made was that Policeman Pond had forged a writ of commitment, signing the name of Justice J. N. Dunston to it. The justice textified to having signed a blank writ, authorizing Mr. Pond to fill in the same if he succeeded in apprehending a criminal he was seeking, and Judge Clopton stated tha

Mr. Pond at Ettricks, and asking for his Mr. Pond at Ettricks, and asking for his retention in office. Some of his supporters were H. F. Munt, Charles H. Shortt, Thomas A. Howlett (county supervisor), William E. Gill, R. E. Eanes and Revs. W. B. Duling and G. F. Greene. Mr. Shortt, who is a retired merchant of Pittricks, stated that he had done business in Ettricks for forty years, and that prior to the appointment of Mr. Pond as policeman the behavior in Ettricks was rerrible, and it was exceedingly disagreeable to carry on business there, but that an entire change for the best had taken place.

that an entire change for the best had taken place.
The case was concluded shortly before 4 o'clock, and the judge, in a few words, delivered his opinion and judgment. Ho said that the evidence went to prove that Mr. Pond had been a faithful and efficient officer, and was a complete vindication of him.
The court yesterday appointed Mr. P. L. Watts as county policeman for the vicinity of Marx's Addition to the city of Manchester at a salary of $40 per month. The court adjourned after hearing the Pond case until next Friday, when a case of A. Blacker vs. H. J. Rubin, curator of Walter Elam, will be heard.

MILL STRIKERS GO BACK

A White Man Arrested Charged With Stealing, and Sent to Jail for Sixty Days-Property Adjoining the Chesterfield Hotel Sold.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch. PETERSBURG, VA., August 12 .- All the striking planing mill workers who went out last week have returned to work with cut last week have returned to work with the exception of one man, who was refused employment by his former employer. The men refused to work at the mils of Mr. Thomas J. Jefferson and the Petersburg Builders' Supply Company because these firms, which had for a time worked nine hours a day, notified their employes that they would work ten hours, just as the other plaining mills in the city. In consequence of this the men at these two mills went out, and with them all the plaining mill workers in the city. The return of the mill workers will not affect the carpenters at the plaining mills, who will still keep up their connection with the national organization. It became evident that the mill owners would not concede to the wishes of the strikers, and the men went back to work.

He was brought to Petersburg the following Monday, when, for the first time, he received surgical attention. Abernathy, who did the shooting, was in Petersburg the day after the assault, and had not then heen arrested. Two days after the shooting Clarence Ashburn was arrested, but he was subsequently released and left for his home in Newport News.

HORRIBLY MURDERED.

The body of Amanda Smith, murdered last night by her jealous lover. John Allen, is still at the morgue. The Murderer is yet at large. He butchered his victim terribly, and the mutilated body bears evidence to the ferocity of the man. The jugular vein was severed and the breast and arms were slashed cruelly.

There will not be an inquest for several days, because the corner desires to await the collection of the evidence on which to indict the murderer. The wounds of the dead woman have not been carefully examined, but a cursory view shows that the slashes were made with a razor or an equally sharp weapon.

Despite the fact of the loss of blood, which was profuse, and the fatal wounds which she had receved, the woman put her apron to her throat to stop the spuring of blood and ran half a block to escape from the cruel razor before she fell dead last night in Cove Street.

These met at once and organized by electing Mr. R. L. Allword as chairman and Mr. G. R. Nottingham as secretary. Mr. T. B. Robertson, the retiring secretary, has held the place for the past eight years. The political field was full of candidates, and speeches were made by Messrs. Winder and Shields. The primary is to be held on the 2d instant, as previously arranged, but some of the details had to be perfected. Over these there was a university but it was finally settled. The Australian ballot was agreed on, and all white voters who support the Democratic candidates in State elections were declared entitled to vote.

This will be the last August court in the county, and the people of the county took full advantage of it. The colored element was especially large and enlivened things by having a brass band turn out.

One Candidate Sald to Have Run Nine Miles for Practice-An Elderly Man Declares He'll Withdraw Before He'll Run.

Mingled feelings of incredulity and musement arise in connection with the proposition that the six aspirants for the mee of constable in Fairfield District, Henrico county, engage in a foot race to the public how they shall vote in the coming primary.

Not at any time has it been understood. that the contest, if held at all, which is doubtful, will decide the candidacy of the gix men. They are merely to sprint for a half mile, and the voters, or a number of them, promise their support to the one who wins. The others will be candi-dates, nevertheless, and will run in the election whither they run in the race or

Many people take the suggestion of the foot race as a liuge joke, and do not believe that the exhibition will ever take place. Everybody is interested in the thing; however, and there are prospects of a big crowd at Hardin's Shop to-night. Numbers of persons will go out, not only to hear the speaking, but to watch the dust fig.

BONA FIDE AFFAIR.

On the other hand, there are persons who state most emphatically that the race is going to be, and they are as sober as a judge about it. According to them, it will be a bona fide affair, and they mean to give their voies to the man who wins and to elect him. An apparently small and absurd thing, such as this, they say, has been known before to turn the tide where there were a number of candidates, and when many of the voiers would as lief cast their ballots for one as for another.

Among the candidates the proposition is received in different ways. One of them said fintly yesterday that he wouldn't run in the race, but would do some business when the primary was held. Two others have been heard to say that they are willing to run, and will do so, while a third is said to be practicing up. This list, it is reported, ran all the way from Seven Pines to the courthouse yesterday—nine miles—and arrived with his tonget hanging out. He is getting in trim for the great struggle. Finally it is said that one of the aspirants for office—a man well advanced in years—has decided to withdraw his candidacy if he is expected to run a half mile in the night.
